Godalming College's Trainee Teacher Scheme

To apply for our trainee teacher scheme, you must have a relevant degree and be committed to starting a career in teaching. You must also be enthusiastic and passionate about your subject as well as working with young people. Ideally, this is on a full time basis, but for some roles application from candidates who wish to be a part time (minimum 3 days) trainee teacher will be considered.

You will be teaching for around 13.5 hours per week plus a tutor group. You will also be doing some learning support work which will give you the opportunity to experience lessons taught by other staff. The post includes some additional time to help you plan and prepare for lessons as well as keep up to date with work for your PGCE. The actual salary will depend on the proportion of time allocated to teaching and will be confirmed at offer stage. For this trainee post, we envisage the actual annual salary will be approximately £23,500.

You will complete your PGCE on a part-time basis over the two years and the cost of the PGCE course will be paid by the College. Our normal expectation is for trainee teachers to enrol on the PGCE at Reigate College as this course is most suited to trainee teachers in the sixth form college sector. We appreciate this may not always be a suitable location for all trainees, depending on their home location and there are other courses that are possibilities which can be discussed at interview.

Trainee teachers are employed on a fixed-term contract for approximately two years. The purpose of the contract is to allow you to complete your teaching qualification while at the same time gain practical experience of teaching and learning support work. At the end of your training contract, the College may be able to offer you employment depending on our teaching requirements at the time but as with all trainee teacher schemes, there is no guarantee of a permanent position.
